

BEWARE

the LOVELAND FROGMAN

CAMP BEAST

No. 12

NOTES

Since 1955, The Loveland Frogman has been sighted numerous times in the hills north of Cincinnati, along the Little Miami River. Described as 3 to 4 feet tall and armed with foreign wands, these bipedal amphibians stay close to the water, and convene under the many bridges that cross the river. While mild-mannered by nature, the Frogmen hate selfies. Please refrain from participating in any self-photography while recreating in southwest Ohio. Selfie sticks will be eaten.

REI CO-OP CAMP SAFETY COALITION

